

Nucleus accumbens: Located at the base of the forebrain, this group of neurons is involved in functions such as motivation and reward processing.