Vagal tone: Stimulations from the vagus nerve leading to the inhibition of the heart beat, which can promptly activate or calm an individual. Several studies have now shown a link between reduced vagal tone and negative emotions (such as anxiety and hostility), aggression, less self-soothing and less adaptive engagement with objects and people.