

Glucocorticoids : These hormones from the corticosteroid family influence protein and carbohydrate metabolism (physical and chemical transformations). In humans, the main glucocorticoid is cortisol.