

Putamen: Area of the brain located at the base of the forebrain. The putamen is involved in movement regulation and in some types of learning, as well as in some neurological disorders.